Volume 8

Crescenta Valley High School La Crescenta, California

Dedicated

to our friend and counselor on her retirement ...

Thirty years of dedicated service to students in the valley schools, the last seven at Crescenta Valley High, have endeared Miss Katherine Bush to students, faculty, and parents. In fact, both faculty and parents are among her former students. She pulled no punches as counselor and advisor, yet was always ready with a smile, a friendly gesture, or encouraging comment. As an ardent sports fan, we will look forward to seeing Miss Bush in the stands whenever she can attend.

foreword

As we read this for the first time, the memory of 1967-68 is still fresh in our minds. For this reason, this book has not been put together for us now; rather, its contents are being held in trust until a time when our memories begin to fade. The road to the future is unknown, and the landmarks of the past rush by all too rapidly, but within these pages, the highlights of this year at Crescenta Valley High have been captured and made imperishable.

To everything there is a season, and time waits only in words and picutres. Let us be grateful that this year can be so preserved.

The effectiveness of any school program depends, to a great extent, on the attitude and loyalty of the student body. It is most gratifying to observe the excellent spirit of our school and to be aware of the many accomplishments of our students. Crescenta Valley High School is a product of the students, and the student body can justly be proud of their school.

To the graduates go our very best wishes for a happy and successful future and our sincere appreciation for the fine pat terns and traditions you are leaving behind

in memoriam

On October 5, 1963, Crescenta Valley High School lost a friend. The death of Mr. Anthony Wilson created a void not only in the personal lives of his friends and loved ones but also in the academic lives of those who will never know him.

Mr. Wi son will be first remembered by Crescenta Valley High School as a reacher. He moded the curriculum of the history and government classes he taught into intellectually rewarding experiences.

Mr. Wilson's contribution to the educational process at Crescenta Vailey transcended the boundaries of the classroom. The impact of his imagination and energy was felt in many of the extracurricular activities that supplement the students total educational development.

Mr. Wi son's importance in the academic effort is not difficult to define, but his importance to the spirit of Crescenta Valies is indefinable. There were certain intangible coments of personants that made Mr. Wilson more than an ordinary teacher at Crescenta Valley. He was a true friend.

class council turns ideas into reality

The Class of '68 will be remembered as one of the finest ever to graduate from Crescenta Valley High School. Starting off in their sophomore year, they showed definite promise, and under the leadership of Bruce Lamb, wrote a new page in the record book when they made a financial "go" of their first year here at Crescenta Valley. Everyone said it couldn't be done, but '68 did it'

Early in the year of '66, Crescenta Valley held its first Competition Day. It was a close race all the way, but '68 took that memorable first Competition Day and gained at that moment an image it was never to lose

With Scott McCreary as president during their junior year, the class again forged ahead, and after a truly successful Junior Prom, again astounded everyone by capturing Crescenta Valley's second annual Competition Day in their senior year, with Mike Miller leading the way, the class lived up to its reputation. Selling magazines in an already saturated market was no easy task, but '68 rolled up its sleeves and did a fairly admirable job under adverse conditions, and without even breaking stride captured its third consecutive Class Competition Day

It is with great pride and satisfaction that I look back on my association with this class, and it is very easy for me to say: Class of '68, you were truly Great'

Senior Day, an annual occasion which gives the graduating class an opportunity to celebrate, came to Crescenta Valley on November 22 this year. It was a bermuda day for Seniors only and was highlighted by a girls' pushball game, a barbeque, and a movie, "Heroes of Telemark." Seniors finished their day by dancing to the "soul sound" of The Innocents. Scenes from the push-ball game appear on this page

STUDENT LIFE

Within a limited sphere of influence, the ASB Cabinet exercises almost complete control of student activities. The success or failure of Howdy Day, Homecoming, aftergame dances, Class Competition Day, assemblies and the financial state of the student body is directly attributable to the abilities of the Cabinet. I am happy to report that these things have been more than successful this semester. In addition, the Cabinet can act as a rallying point for student action During this semester, for example, the Cabinet molded pro open-campus sentiments into positive and meaningful action. Also, dissatisfaction with the school cafeteria was channeled into significant changes. Above all, I am very pleased to learn that general student attitude and spirit has reached a high point during this semester. The Cabinet wishes to extend to the ASB of Crescenta Valley their thanks for the cooperation and support given this semester

This past semester I have tried to conduct the Cabinet in such a way that we could present the Talent Show, "The Day," and other ASB-sponsored events successfully. It has been important for us to pull away from the usual conception of student government as operating amidst the unimportant paper work, e.g., approving club-sponsored events, etc., that unfortunately plagues most types of student-governing organizations. However, because of the necessity for limiting the powers of Cabinet at the high school level of student government, there has certainly not been any revolutionary change at CVHS as a result of our actions. Realizing fully this eventual partial-defeat, I have tried to lay the groundwork for more positive and meaningful government. The Cabinet and I have worked for this goal in two directions First of all, we have expressed and, I hope, impressed upon the student body their responsibility to elect officials who will strive to improve student government. Secondly, I have worked directly with the Cabinet itself in the creation of an All-City Forum with Hoover and Glendale High Schools, I sincerely believe that with constructive inter-Cabinet discussion, new ideas have been, and will be inter-changed. This organization also helps in presenting a unified front to the Glendale school's administration in matters, for instance, such as open campus. In closing, I would like to thank the Associated Student Body of Crescenta Valley High School for giving me the opportunity to serve them in my capacity as Student Body President

big foes fall to watermen

Crescenta Valley overcame an early season losing streak by winning five of their last seven games. Along with Woody Walker and Ron Ryun, who are shown at right, the team proved itself a power to be reckoned with in coming years. Under the coaching of Mr. Schirmer, the first water polo team at CV ended the season as a great success and fine contribution to Valley's sports department.

varsity track keeps pace

The Crescenta Valley Track Team got a slow start in 1968 but soon overcame the difficulties they were suffering and won a majority of their meets. Coach Gilliland was forced to use many Bee and Cee runners on the Varsity because of a lack of manpower The Varsity had some exceptional performances for the season however. Nick Miccio, Dave Miller, and John Toth were outstanding in short and middle distance running. John McIntire, Steve MacIntosh and

Howard Ray proved powerful in the mile and two mile races. Dave Potter, Gary Hanrihan and Larry Laing in the high jump, Jeff Maranville in the pole vault, along with Rich Ohmert in long jump and Chris Lerable in shot putt rounded out a well-balanced and effective track team. Mr. Gilliland and Mr. Walters can be congratulated for building the team both physically and mentally from early February to the Foothill League Track Finals near the end of April

With an exceptional high jump squad and numerous long distance runners, CV gained points in these events at every meet. Also, the shot putt, long jump, and middle distance runners added their share of points during the season. Allowing for the small size and inexperience of the team, coaches Gilliland and Walters did an admirable job of forming an efficient team which won a majority of their meets against tough league competition
